A traffic accident can be one of the most horrific events a person can experience. An instant of squealing tires followed by a gut-wrenching impact and the sound of twisting and tearing metal.

Then comes the pain, the fear, the worry, the shock ... and the questions.

What do I do now? Who should I call? What should I say?

Minutes are ticking by and your rights could be ticking away with them if you don't keep your head. So, we have put together this list of important tips to keep you safe after the accident.

- 1. DO stop immediately, but safely. Turn on your flashers if they are still operable. Get to the side of the road and to safety.
- 2. DO NOT panic. Keep calm and help the injured.
- 3. DO call the police immediately. Even if there are no injuries, you may need a police report for your insurance company.
- 4. DO NOT leave the scene of the accident. It's the law.
- 5. DO NOT talk with the other person's insurance company. Do not admit or deny fault.
- 6. DO exchange information: name, address, license number, phone number, registration and insurance information.
- 7. DO file an accident report with the police and get a copy of it for your records.
- 8. DO identify witnesses. Obtain names, addresses, phone numbers and statements. Remember to take photos of the accident scene with your cell phone.
- 9. DO notify your insurance company.
- 10. DO protect your legal rights. The insurance industry can become an intricate maze of faces, names and paperwork following a traffic accident. An attorney who specializes in dealing with insurance companies can protect your rights.

Car and truck crashes cost an estimated $1 trillion each year. Often times, insurance companies try to cut a deal quickly and cheaply with injured victims. Without an attorney to look out for your best interests, you may end up being the one paying the bills.

I'm Jeff Weinstein, and I don't think that's fair. I've spent the past 27 years fighting for the rights of individuals against Big Insurance, helping thousands of people who have been injured.

I believe in this so strongly that Weinstein Law provides the first consultation free. Call us at 1-877-677-5333 and tell us about your crash, and if we can't help you that will be the end. There is no obligation.

But if we can help you, we will put our law firm and our experience to work protecting your rights. We will negotiate not only with the insurance company to ensure you are getting what you are owed, but we will also negotiate with the hospital to try and reduce your medical bills.
